

Are templates identical to model snowboards?

Contributed by Dante Martin

The length, running length, waist width, and sidecut of the model boards are matched. However, the nose and tail shapes are approximated since nearly all vendors do not make those specifications public.